De Gaulle Urged To Try Again

Formation Of Coalition Govt. With Equal Representation

PARIS, Nov. 19 (APA).

The Constituent Assembly voted today, 400 to 163, to ask General de Gaulle, to renew his efforts to form a Coalition Government, giving equal representation to the Communists, Socialists and Movement Republican Popualire parties.

The Communists voted as a bloc against the renewal which ended temporarily at least any chance of de Gaulle resigning as France's interim president.

In a last minute switch over tactics, the Socialists who had said they would abstain in the voting voted for de Gaulle.

The assembly then adjourned till Thursday.

DE GAULLE OBLIGES

Reuter adds: Gen. de Gaulle has agreed to resume his efforts to form a tripartite Government. He is meeting a delegation consisting of three representatives of each of the three big parties tomorrow morning.

MAHATMA LEAVES FOR CALCUTTA TO-DAY

Fit Enough To Undertake Journey, Says Jivraj Mehta

BOMBAY, Monday.

Mahatma Gandhi spent a quiet day at Birla House. Among those who called on him were Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Mr. Herman Ould, Secretary of the International P. E. N., Dr. Jivaraj Mehta, Mr. Gurdayal Mallick of Shantiniketan and Mr. Mangaldas Pakwasa. Being Gandhiji's weekly silence day, visitors from outside had to be content with broad smiles from him.

The evening prayer was held at 6 p.m., an hour earlier than the usual scheduled time. A small crowd was present in the compound by the sea side opposite the Birla House. Mr. Gurdayal Mallick from Santiniketan sang a "Bhajan" in Bengali.

Gandhiji broke his silence at 7.30 p.m.

WORKERS MEET MAHATMA

Half an hour later about a hundred voluntary workers of the Rashtrabhasha Prachar Samiti gathered for an informal meeting in Gandhiji's room.

Gandhiji will leave the city by Calcutta Mail on Tuesday.

Referring to his health, Dr. Jivaraj Mehta said that Gandhiji was fit enough to stand the journey.

ARRIVAL IN CITY

Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel and the members of their party arrived in Bombay by the "Deccan Queen", this morning.

Having had advanced intimation of the arrival, a large crowd of people waited at the level crossing, Matunga, long before the arrival of the train.

As the train drew up at the crossing Sir Rustom Masani was the first to jump out of the compartment. He was followed by Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, who, with an agility remarkable for a man of his age, jumped down from the compartment before the ladder was hitched on.

Later Mahatma Gandhi stepped down the ladder followed by Miss Maniben Patel, Dr. Miss Susila Nayar and Mr. Pyrelal. Mr. Kanu Gandhi and others went on with the luggage.

Mr. Nagindas T. Master, President of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee garlanded Gandhiji with the usual hank of Khadi yarn.

Gandhiji drove to Birla House, where prayers will be held as usual at 7 p.m.

WHEN GANDHIJI AND SARDAR WILL VISIT BARDOLI

SURAT, Nov. 19. (A.P.I.): Mahatma Gandhi will visit Gujarat in the last week of December and stay at Bardoli for two months after his projected tour of Bengal, it is gathered here.

Reinforcement For North Iran

Teheran Expects No Hampering From Russia

TEHERAN, Nov. 19 (Reuter): Two battalions of Persian troops have been sent to North Iran (where a revolt is reported to have broken out) on the decision of the Government and a special meeting of the Majlis (Persian Parliament).

The Russian military attache and the commanding general of the Soviet forces in Persia were informed of this decision before the troops left.

Mr. Bayatt, who has been nominated Governor of Azerbaijan (the seat of the disturbances) was to leave Teheran today by plane for Tabriz.

It is hoped in Teheran that the Soviet authorities will not prevent Persian forces moving northwards to restore order.

The Persian press today attributes the disturbances to foreign elements.

Azerbaijans, who speak Turkish, are at present divided between the Soviet republic of Azerbaijan, in which about 3 000.000 of them live and the northwestern province of the same name where there are about 1.000.000.

B.B.C. AND INDIAN ELECTIONS

LONDON, Nov. 19 (Reuter): Removal of the ban on political organisations in India has been carried as far as it is considered to be possible at present, having due regard to the maintenance of law and order, stated Mr. Arthur Henderson, Under-Secretary of State for India, in reply to a question in the House of Commons today.

Mr. Dumpleton (Labour) asked if in view of the importance of securing informed public opinion in Britain regarding the Indian elections, Mr. Henderson would consult with the B.B.C. with a view to facilities being granted to Indian leaders to give broadcast talks to the British public and arrange for a parliamentary delegation to visit India before or during the elections.

Mr. Henderson replied, "I fully share Mr. Dumpleton's view of the importance of keeping the public in this country as fully informed as possible about the forthcoming elections in India. The most suitable methods of achieving this end are under examination."

The Government of Bombay has nominated Dewan Bahadur B. J. Shastri to be Vice-Chairman of Surat District Rural Development Board.

Fighting Breaks Out In Batavia Again

BOYCOTT FOLLOWS CALL FOR "WAR ON BRITISH"

Situation In Samarang Gives Cause For Anxiety

BATAVIA, November 19, (Reuter): Fighting broke out here again tonight, when a patrol of the Seaforth Highlanders clashed with Indonesian nationalists near Hotel des Galeries, cables Noel Buckley, Reuter's special correspondent.

The number of casualties is not yet known, but a number of Indonesian bodies were seen lying in the roadway.

Recent bellicose utterances of Indonesian radio speakers, culminating today in a "declaration of war on the British," have led to the development of an ugly situation in Batavia where it has become impossible to buy food from local markets.

They have closed down completely, either because the traders are afraid to open after yesterday's shooting incidents in which a well-known Chinese merchant was murdered, or because a boycott against the Europeans has been ordered similar to that imposed at Semarang.

Although the position in Batavia could not be called grave, a large section of the city are still in Indonesian hands, forming danger spots which are likely to blow up at any moment.

The situation in Semarang, Mid-Java town, gives cause for anxiety in view of the extreme aggressive attitude of the Indonesian extremists.

An Indonesian broadcast declaring "war on British" and calling on Jogjakarta nationalists to reinforce those in Semarang has been picked up by the British radio listening post.

British troops are steadily clearing disturbed areas in the town.

The Indonesian Governor has been placed under arrest.

And the Associated Press of America says that the British Brigadier Bathell ordered him to broadcast a message to the effect that no Indonesian motor cars or armed men should be on the roads after 7 p.m. (local time) Sunday.

It is now clear that serious disorders in Samarang, 250 miles further east, were only prevented yesterday by the prompt decisive action of the local British Commander.

Fighting broke out early yesterday morning after the murder outside the town of two British officers and the wounding of a third who has since died. Still skirmishing lasted throughout the day and British tanks and guns were used to dislodge Indonesian snipers and machine-gun posts from concrete buildings.

By nightfall more than half the town was in British hands. British casualties were three killed and seven wounded.

THEY MAKE WEAPONS

SOURABAYA, Nov. 19 (APA): British authorities to-day reported finding evidence that the Indonesians are trying out the small-scale manufacture of bombs and weapons.

Punjabi troops, who captured the Emma School in west central Sourabaya and nearby tram repair shops, found a small crude factory for manufacturing rifles.

The workshops contained gun parts in various stages of manufacture and several home-made bottle bombs.

British forces, meanwhile, continued mopping up captured areas, but made no attempt to advance.

Patrols were active on the east flank, thrusting deep into Indonesian-held southern Sourabaya.

OIL TANK EXPLOSION IN SOURABAYA

SOURABAYA, Nov. 19 (Reuter).

A loud explosion near the Emma school in Sourabaya, blowing up an oil tank, shook a large area this afternoon, and the tremor was felt through most of Sourabaya. Plaster was knocked of buildings half a mile away. The explosion occurred as Lt.-Gen. Christison, Allied Commander in Java, was making a tour of Central Sourabaya forward posts.

NEHRU ADDRESSES MAMMOTH SIKH MEETING

LAHORE, Nov. 19 (A.P.I.): Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru in a big sweeping election drive through central and north-western Punjab covered today about 250-miles addressing mass gatherings at about ten places during a 13-hour journey.

The programme of the day was highlighted by a visit to the shrines of Nanakana Sahib, in Sheikhupura District, the birth-place of Guru Nanak. Here he spoke to about a lakh of people, mostly Sikhs today being the birthday of the great Guru. The broad open square, packed with men and women, was floodlit with electric lights and the balconies and windows and roofs of the buildings around were all crowded.

He also visited the Nanadhari and the Ramgarhia Darbar Sahibs, the holy places of the two Sikh sects. He addressed mammoth gatherings also at Lyallpur, Dichkot, Samundari, Fatimana, Farahwala, and was presented purses totalling nearly Rs. 16,000 for the I.N.A. Defence and Election Funds and the Kamala Nehru Hospital.

CAXTON HALL MEETING SUPPORTS I. N. A.

(From Our Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 18. (Reuter): A resolution describing the trial of the Indian National Army officers and men as unlawful and demanding their immediate release was passed unanimously to-day at a meeting in Caxton Hall. Westminster, organised by the "Indian National Army Defence Committee, London".

Following is the text of the resolution:—

"The meeting of Indians under the auspices of the Indian National Army Defence Committee, while upholding non-violence as the basic principle of the Indian struggle for freedom, expresses its heartfelt admiration for the valour and sacrifices of officers and men of the Indian National Army, who followed, according to their conviction the accepted code of political morality at present current in the west for making India free from alien rule.

"This meeting further places on record its strongest protest against accusations against officers and members of the Indian National Army of high treason and demands in the name of freedom and democracy their release.

"This is imperative at this critical time when friendly understanding between Britain and India for immediate and systematic withdrawal of the British from India is essential for the peace of Asia as well as of the world."

Uranium For Coal

Nobel Prize Winner's Forecast

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19 (A.P.A.): Within ten years, companies designing new plants may be considering favourably the use of the atomic heat of uranium instead of coal.

This prediction was made to the American Philosophical Society and the National Academy of Arts and Sciences by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, Nobel Prize winner and scientist who headed the scientific research work on atomic power.

Compton said power companies would consider the substitution of uranium for coal for purely economic reasons.

"This, of course, does not mean than atom power will put coal out of business," he said, "each will have its own field. For small heating units such as the kitchen stove, atom power has no place."

"If the national economy grows as it should, coal as a chemical agent will increase in importance," he declared.

BAHAIS & UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD

While addressing the Bahais of Ahmedabad on the occasion of Bahaullah's birthday Mrs. Shirin Fozdar stated that it was surprising how wayward humanity inspite of the crushing blows dealt by God remained still unmoved and was not yet submissive enough to yield to Divine Will and seek His pleasure. The Bahais were confident that however slow the progress of man towards its destined goal mankind was ultimately bound to be encompassed by the protecting shade of a Universal Brotherhood, the foundation of which had been laid by Bahaullah in the last century.

HOOSEINBHOY SAYS HE HAS VERY FAIR CHANCES OF VICTORY OVER JINNAH

Shias Demand Separate Electorates Or One-Third Of Seats In Legislatures

The demand of the All-Parties Shia Conference, that the Shias should be given separate electorates or in the alternative adequate reservation of seats in a joint electoral system was explained by Hoosseinbhoy Laljee, President and Mr. Kalbe Abbas, General Secretary of the Conference, to representatives of the Press at the Taj on Monday evening.

Addressing the press representatives Mr. Hoosseinbhoy Laljee explained the fundamental differences between the Shias and the Sunnis, the two leading Muslim sects which had existed side by side since the death of the Holy Prophet Mohammad. The Shias had played their part in the history of the Islamic countries of the Middle East as well as in India. Among the Muslim rulers of India there had been Sunnis as well as Shias. The position had continued under British rule. The Shias by virtue of their ability and educational advance had carved out for themselves a position of importance in the body politic. At present they numbered three crores in India and 75 per cent of them were educated. But recently the Shias were being discriminated against and pushed back. In the legislatures, local bodies as well as public services, Sunnis were being given the dominant position without any regard to ability or competence. During the last six years even riots had occurred between the two communities because of the determined assault of the Sunnis on the religious rights of their Shia brethren.

FEARS OF SHIAS

It was because of these developments that an apprehension had grown in the minds of the Shias leading to the demand for protection and special rights. These demands had been sent to the Viceroy, the members of the Viceroy's Executive Council and the members of the British Cabinet. He remarked that it was very strange that while the smallest minorities in India were receiving public attention the case of the Shias was going by default.

Mr. Husseinbhoy emphatically denied the rumours that he was withdrawing his candidature to the Central Assembly from any of the constituencies. He said that he had very fair chances in the Bombay City constituency. He was sure of a Shia victory over Mr. Jinnah provided there was a fair fight. He added that he had heard reports that City Muslims were being "bullied" into voting for the League candidate.

THE ANOMALY

Mr. Kalbe Abbas elaborating the remarks of Mr. Hoosseinbhoy traced the history of the Shia political conference and the emergence or its demands. It was curious to note that while Sunni Boards were backing Muslim League candidates everywhere they were opposing the League candidates in the few cases where they were Shias It was a misleading and anomalous position that while Mr. Jinnah was himself a Shia the rights of the Shias were being consistently ignored. This was because Mr. Jinnah wanted to placate the Sunnis. They were in a majority and their support was necessary to consolidate his own position. He suggested that considering their political importance, their past traditions and present standing in the country the Shias were entitled to 05 per cent of Muslim seats in the legislatures; but in a spirit of compromise they were prepared to accept a third of the seats. He gave a detailed account of the attempts they had made to arrive at a compromise and expained how they had failed. He announced that because of this the Council of Action of the Shia Conference would meet shortly and give a clear mandate to its people to vote for Shia candidates.

INDO-AUSTRALIAN TRADE DEVELOPMENT

Good Prospect For Marketing Textiles & Sports Goods, Says Saksena

The Secretary of the All-India Manufacturers' Organisation Bombay, writes:—

Sir M. Visvesvaraya, and members of the Working Committee of the All-India Manufacturers' Organization had an informal discussion with Mr. R. R. Saksena, Government of India Trade Commissioner in Australia on Thursday, at the office of the Organization. During the course of discussion Mr. Saksena dealt on the prospects of trade development between Australia and India. He said that there is a good prospect for marketing the following Indian manufactures in Australia: Textiles, Sports Goods, Jute, Scientific Glassware, Cutlery, Cheap Crockery and pottery, Hardware, Artificial jwelleries, etc.

He said that Australia has made great strides during war especially in the following industries: Ship-building; Iron and Steel; Chemicals; Non-ferrous metals; Tractors and Aircraft Engines, etc.

He added that there is every possibility of establishing automobile industry in Australia in the near future.

In regard to shipping he said that the coastal traffic is entirely reserved for Australian vessels and that Australia is negotiating for a share in the case of ocean traffic with other foreign countries who are enjoying monopoly at present. He explained the procedure followed in Australia with regard to Tariff Board enquiries which are completed within two months. He revealed that there are no restrictions against Indians under the Immigration Law in Australia, but the Government do not generally encouraged Indians to permanently settle there as they do not feel freely mixed with the local public. He said that the Indian merchants could freely establish their firms in Australia provided they could guarantee a turn over of £500 a year per head.

The permits are issued for a year and they should be renewed during every subsequent year.

Finally he said that if any delegation of business men is to go to Australia in future it should only be with a definite purpose and with authority and not for simply exploring purposes.

EXHIBITION OF EDUCATIONAL FILMS

I. F. I.'s Plans For Making It Permanent Feature

Plans for extending the exhibition of educational films, as well as for making them a permanent feature of educational activities in India are being made by the Information Films of India.

Educational films for students were first organised as an experimental measure in Bombay city in July, 1945. With the cooperation of the Headmasters' Association of Bombay city and the Suburbs and the Motion Picture Society of India, these shows were given at selected theatres on Sunday mornings.

Over 9,000 students boys and girls—saw these film shows. Later individual schools and colleges which were desirous of holding separate shows for themselves were also given the opportunity to do so. Thus nearly 50,000 students of the city and suburbs were enabled to see these films during the first half of the academic year.

Encouraged by this result the I.F.I. extended its activities to cover thirty educational centres all over India. The programmes of such shows consisted of select films in any one of the five languages, English, Hindustani, Tamil, Telugu and Bengali.

I.F.I. are planning to extend the shows to as many centres as possible. This can only be done with the cooperation of educational authorities and heads of educational institutions. They should contact one of the branch offices of the I.F.I. at Bombay, Calcutta, Lahore, Madras and Lucknow, or write direct to the Public Relations Officer Information Films of India, 74-94 Tardeo Road, Bombay, if they desire to arrange shows of educational films for their students or for any other facilities they require. Films to suit the requirements of students of primary and secondary schools as well as Arts, Science and Training Colleges are available and the institutions will be able to get the picture suitable to the needs of their pupils.

FACT No. 5

TODAY as always India's cotton textile industry is pledged to serve India's public to the limit of its resources.

And the resources of the industry are not negligible; nearly 14% of the estimated world production of cloth is made each year in India. 407 mills contribute to this gargantuan total. Over ten million spindles. Over 200 thousand looms. Eight lakhs of workers are employed each day; three lakhs more than in the days of peace. In 1943-44, there was available for civilian consumption, 5,868 million yards of cloth in India, which is only 6% less than the pre-war average available supply.

So, you see, India's cotton textile industry remains faithful to its pledge to serve India's public to the utmost. The responsibility for the present cloth shortage does not lie at the door of the producers; through this war they have assuredly "delivered the goods."

Approach the Textile Controller of your province if you cannot obtain necessary cloth or yarn. Movement of cloth and yarn is entirely controlled by Government

GOVERNMENT'S APPEAL FAILS

Ahmedabad Bomb Case

Imperator ..... Appellant
Versus
Balmukand D. Acharyar and six others ..... Opponents (Original Accused)

Government's appeal in the Ahmedabad Electric Sub-Station Bomb case was dismissed by their Lordships on Monday. Fifteen persons, including the seven opponents, had been charged with having conspired to explode five sub-stations of the Ahmedabad Electric Co. on 22nd November 1942, but the jury having unanimously found them not guilty, they had all been acquitted by Mr. D. V. Vyas, Sessions Judge of Ahmedabad with regard to seven of the accused the Government preferred the present appeal on the ground that the Sessions Judge had misdirected the jury in regard to several matters.

Explosives had been put and explosions had occurred causing some damage. The accused had been charged under the Explosive Substances Act, the Defence of India Rules, the Indian Penal Code, etc., but had been acquitted as stated above.

On appeal, their Lordships held that the evidence of the approver Manharlal Jethalal Raval was not admissible because pardon had not been lawfully tendered to him—reasons for tendering pardon not having been recorded as required by Section 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Apart from that, there was very little evidence of a substantial nature to connect the accused with the crime.

The Advocate-General with the Government Pleader appeared for the Crown.

Mr. R. A. Jaghirdar and Mr. N. C. Shah appeared for the opponents.

SILAM OPENS DEBATE ON MUNICIPAL BUDGET

Says Number Of Pupils Would Rise To 1,45,000 By End Of 1946-47

Mr. S. L. Silam, Chairman, Standing Committee of the Municipal Corporation, on Monday opened discussion on the budget estimates as presented by the Municipal Commissioner for the year 1946-47.

Referring to primary education he said:

The Schools Committee for the ensuing year have asked for a provision of Rs. 70.28 lakhs which is Rs. 11.41 lakhs in excess of the current year's budget estimates.

The Standing Committee would not mind sanctioning the Schools Committee demand which is based on the assumption that the number of pupils would rise to 1,45,000 by the end of 1946-47 provided it is assured that administrative steps will be taken in the right spirit and immediately to ensure every possible economy and further that the full benefit of the Corporation's huge expenditure is made available to the citizens in the shape of the right type of education.

GENERAL TAX INCREASE

The Commissioner's proposals as I have observed above contemplate the raising of the General Tax by two per cent. The members of the Standing Committee, and for the matter of that the Corporation as a whole, would naturally view this proposal with very great anxiety. It will be upto us to scrutinise the budget proposals of the Commissioner very carefully and to explore every possible avenue with a view to effecting proper economies and avoiding this burden on the rate-payers. At the same time, the Standing Committee should certainly realise that should it not be possible to avoid this increase, they must be prepared to face the adverse criticism which is bound to follow any decision to increase the tax.

NADKARNI REPORT

There is one item which does not figure in this budget, viz. the extra lisbility that the Corporation will have to shoulder as a result of the recommendations made by Rao Bahadur D. V. Nadkarni, Special Officer, in his report.

This budget to my mind should be more ambitious, but unfortunately our past experience has been that the Executive have not been able to utilise the provisions made. It is, therefore, difficult for the Standing Committee to make larger allotments as in all probability many of them would be carried over to the next year and would merely inflate the budget figures instead of figuring in the next year's proposals.

DHARAVI IMPROVEMENT

Referring to the Dharavi improvement scheme, he said:

I welcome the contemplated improvement of Dharavi and hope that it would materialise at a very early date. The provision of Rs. 15 lakhs made in the budget for accommodation of the poorer classes is a welcome provision, but as I have observed above, I should have been happier if the Commissioner had been ready with a definite scheme. Let us also hope that the contemplated amendments of the Municipal Act for lessening the cost of acquisition or avoiding large scale acquisition for improvement of areas will soon be given effect to and that improvement schemes, slum clearance schemes housing schemes, etc., would be pushed through at a great space.

Mr. Chimanlal Manchubhai also spoke on the budget and made some suggestions.

WOMEN DEMAND ADULT FRANCHISE

Meeting Of Bombay Branch Of A.-I. W. C.

Presiding over a meeting of the Bombay branch of the All-India Women's Conference on Saturday at Dadar, Lady Rama Rao exhorted women to take part in the forthcoming elections by exercising their right to vote. She asked women not to indulge in party politics while taking part in the elections but look to the integrity of the candidate for whom they would like to vote. It was not enough that the candidate was prepared to fight for freedom but it was also necessary to see whether he was in favour of social progress and would promise to back women's right to succession, divorce and even their right to the knowledge of birth-control by which they can plan their family and build up a healthy nation.

Mrs. Indubai Phadke read the report on the work done by the sub-branches of the Bombay Branch of the A.-I.W.C. during the year. After passing two condolence resolutions on the deaths of General Rajwade and Smt. Satyavati Devi, the other resolutions relating to (1) independence, (2) unemployment, (3) withdrawal of censorship and relaxation of D.I.R., (4) Adarkar Scheme, (5) spread of primary education, (6) inclusion of adequate number of women on the Constituent Assembly and (7) adult franchise, etc., which were already passed by the sub-branches came for discussion and were finally adopted to be placed before the forthcoming All-India session of the A.-I.W.C. at Hyderabad.

The resolution demanding adult franchise for the coming elections to the Provincial Assemblies gave rise to lively discussion. Two amendments were moved by Smt. Jaishri Raiji and Mrs. Jhabvala stating that adult franchise should be conceded in future elections. Tme amendments were defeated by majority vote and the resolution in its original form was passed by 65 votes to 50, as the majority was prepared for the postponement of the coming elections to the Provincial Assemblies.

The Bombay Chronicle

A CRYING SHAME

It is heartening to note the signs of the awakening of the conscience of civilised humanity in the west at the outrage that is being perpetrated in Indonesia and Indo-China to satisfy the insatiable greed of European imperialisms. Reports are coming of more and more protests against and condemnation of the part which Britain is playing in the Far East to keep down the peoples there in subjection and semi-slavery to their former European masters, the Dutch and the French. The use of Indian troops—soldiers of a country which is itself in political chains—for putting down the freedom movements in those territories is the most shameful spectacle of all, as pointed out by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. Helpless—and outraged—India can only look on, while assuring the Indonesian and Indo-Chinese people that she deeply resents the use of her soldiers and grieves at the tragic bloodshed, but is unable to prevent the outrage, being herself a fellow-victim of imperialism. India recalls her own tragic experiences at the close of the first world war, when the first reward she received for her loyal services was Jallianwala Bagh and other martial law horrors.

We wonder how Mr. Attlee, who has been trying to impress the American public with his Labourite Government's concern for the "common man", must be feeling under the lash of the publisher of the "Chicago Tribune". Col. McCormick has blurted out a few blunt truths which cannot but go home to the average Briton as well as American. He tells the former brutally that "the British are in India, Burma, Malaya and Java only because the Americans defeated the Japanese who had defeated all their other enemies". If Mr. Attlee's Government goes on at the present rate in its career of unrestrained imperialist adventures, it will soon beat the record of the Jingoes of the past half a century. Though Prof. Laski has denied that there is a move to oust him from the Labour Party and though the Party headquarters have pooh-poohed the suggestion that a serious rift in the Party lute is becoming evident, it needs no prophet to prognosticate that unless Messrs. Attlee, Bevin and Co., call an early halt in the military adventures in the Far East, there will be, sooner or later, a revolt among the more radical elements in Labour ranks which the Party executive will find it difficult to curb. "It is" as Prof. Laski says, "a double tragedy to see Great Britain restore law and order..... for the maintenance of the slums of other empires".

If the Labour Government is sincere in its protestations that British and Indian troops are in Indonesia merely to secure the disarming of Japanese troops and the repatriation of Allied nationals from the islands, it should find no difficulty in providing facilities to Pandit Nehru to proceed to Java immediately. He has received repeated calls from the leaders of Indonesia to pay a visit to their country so that he may see the truth for himself and report the correct facts to his people as well as the Government of India. But under the patently insincere official pleas that transport facilities are not available at present and that his visit will not be helpful, he has been prevented from going to Indonesia. The real reason for refusal to allow him to pay a visit to the place must appear to be the fear in the official mind that his presence will come in the way of the British plan to break the back of the Indonesian movement by all possible means and then hand the subdued country over to the brother-imperialist Dutch. The part that the British are playing in Indonesia is clearly described by the Indonesian representatives present at the conference with General Van Mook. The British diplomat, Mr. S. M. Denning, they said, acted as a "spokesman for the Dutch" and attempted to bring pressure on them to accept the Dutch proposals. However that may be, the Indonesians' struggle for freedom cannot and will not end with any temporary reverse. As Pandit Jawaharlal has remarked, the movement has a wider significance and all Asia will sooner or later make it its own—India, sooner than any one else. There can be no respite for Eastern peoples till the whole East is freed of the shackles imposed on it by the imperialist nations of the West. "Quit Asia" will be the cry heard everywhere in the East from now on till all the East is liberated. If the British Labour Government does not want the British nation to become most unpopular in the eyes of all Eastern peoples, it should pursue a really democratic policy towards Eastern peoples and not merely one paying lip-homage to Democracy and Socialism but really concealing the exploiter's mailed fist in a velvet glove. The Labour Government must decide for itself whether it will be the grave-digger of the Empire or the builder of a genuine Commonwealth of free nations.

The Strangling Of Persia?

The latest news from Persia is most alarming though not surprising. The news is not surprising because the refusal of Russia to withdraw her forces from the Northern parts of the country and recent happenings made the present crisis inevitable. "An open separatist rebellion" has been started ostensibly by the "Democratic Party" and it is significant that machine-guns were distributed to crowds by members of that party from Russian lorries. The writ of the Persian Government has not been allowed to run in Russian occupied Iran for sometime past and the repeated requests of that Government for the withdrawal of Russian troops has been ignored. What is the most alarming feature of the present revolt is not merely that it is separatist so far as the northern part of the country is concerned but that the object of the insurgents is to get control of the entire country. For the "Committee of Exiles" in Tabriz has issued a manifesto stating that "oppression by foreigners and lack of security have forced the inhabitants of the north to move towards the capital". Here is a Hitlerian touch which is reminiscent of what happened in Sudetanland on the eve of the war that has just ended. Whoever is pulling the strings the danger to the integrity and independence of Iran is imminent and the only way in which it can be averted is by the immediate withdrawal of all foreign troops from that country, leaving it to its inhabitants to settle their differences, if there are any, themselves. But unfortunately, the pursuit of Persian oil and the mad Anglo-American-Russian race for spheres of influence in the Persian Gulf area will hardly make this possible. For, already the sinister suggestion is being made that "one of the questions the substitution of a 'revolutionary Government' might throw up is how such a development would affect the decision by the Allies to withdraw their troops from Persia by the end of February". Evidently what we may soon witness will be the renewal in a slightly different form, of the familiar process of strangling of Persia which was one of the dark deeds of the early years of this century.

Wanted Authoritative Report

However poor Mr. Jinnah's defence of Pakistan may be his recent occasional attempts to meet criticism of it are welcome as they help to make the scheme better understood—and exposed. His reply to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel is evasive and fallacious, but even that helps—at any rate the opponents of Pakistan. The Sardar's main thesis was that men do not change their nationality when they change their religion. Mr. Jinnah does not answer this. His citing the case of the Mafatlal swimming bath being open only to Hindus as a proof of his two-nation theory is ridiculous. For by his logic the existence of a number of caste institutions in Bombay and elsewhere in India would mean the existence of as many nations as there are castes. The Sardar also asked how Assam could be included in Pakistan and how it could be consistent with the principle of self-determination. Mr. Jinnah is conveniently silent on this point. With regard to Mr. Jinnah's assurance that the minorities in the Muslim provinces would be duly protected, the Sardar, in common with many others, asked why in the same way the Muslim minority in the country should not be satisfied with a similar assurance by the All-India Federation. Mr. Jinnah does not directly meet the argument but only quibbles when he says: "Is the view or opinion of Muslim minority in the Hindu provinces to prevail? Is similarly the opinion of Hindu minorities in the Muslim provinces to prevail? In that case it will be the minority that will be dictating to the majority both in Hindustan and Pakistan which reduces the whole position 'ad absurdum'". This is irrelevant because the Sardar has never said that the minority should anywhere dictate to the majority. Indeed, the Sardar would be glad to have it from Mr. Jinnah that a minority should not dictate to the majority.

Helpful as individual explanations are, in the press or on the platform, it will be better if there is an authoritative exposition of Pakistan scheme by the League in the form of a report. That will in no way be encroaching on the functions of the Constituent Assembly of the whole of India or of those provinces that decide to keep out of a Federation. The report will only commit in a way the League in the Assembly session. Such a book will help a full understanding of the scheme and its full and fair discussion by all concerned. Above all, it will help the Congress to decide if it can go farther than it has already done in protecting the interests of Muslims.

Frankly Speaking

Goodwill Wasted

It is gratifying to note that Indians in Britain are taking a united stand in demanding immediate independence for India and that they are receiving appreciable support from the left-wing section of the British Labour Party. They are also carrying on active agitation and organised a number of meetings in connection with Pandit Jawaharlal's 57th birthday. Mr. V. K. Krishna Menon, General Secretary of the India League, has organised a series of nation-wide one-day conferences to focus British public opinion on India. The second conference of the series, held at Manchester, must have created some stir as it has been reported at some length by a special correspondent of "Reuter". The unanimously adopted resolution of the Conference urges that, in accordance with "the overwhelming mandate given to the Labour Government by the British people for full independence for India" "India's right to independence may be recognised forthwith, that the Viceroy's Council be reconstituted now to function as a provisional national Government which commands the confidence of the Indian people, that political prisoners be released, political liberty re-established and free elections ensured". Mr. Menon regretted that the Labour Government had failed to take advantage of the goodwill that spread throughout India when it came to power. That regret is shared by millions in India and Britain who feel that there is still room for cordial relations between free India and free Britain, though such relations are possible only if the British Government helps Indian Independence, instead of hindering it as it is now doing.

Scandalous

The Government, however, is doing nothing to help India. The Viceroy has studiously refrained from making any fresh attempts to inaugurate a National Government. What is positively scandalous is that thousands of politicals are still held in prison, many without a trial. These men would have been most helpful for election work. Is it for that very reason that they are held prisoners? The use of Indian troops against Indonesians struggling for freedom is a fresh humiliation imposed on India. It appears the British politicians will not adequately appreciate the Indian situation unless they feel the pinch of Indian discontent.

Adding Insult To Injury

According to a United Press of America message the Indonesian newspaper, "Merdeka" asserts that 400 Indian soldiers have been interned on the island of Onrust off Tandjongprick because they refused to fight the Indonesians and that 200 others are being kept "somewhere else in the Batavia area". The British, the message says, have denied the report. However, so far as we in India are concerned the Commander-in-Chief must not only immediately tell us what is truth about this report, but must also recall all Indian troops from Indonesia and Indo-China. The continued use of Indian troops for the suppression of Indonesian and Indo-Chinese Freedom Movements is an indefensible defiance of Indian public opinion and insult has been added to injury by the British spokesmen in Indonesia who, according to the U. P. A. message, have had the effrontery to declare that "most Indian Muslims do not consider the Indonesians staunch Mohamedans". This is an impudent but characteristically imperialist device of justifying a grievous wrong by indulging in insulting falsehoods.

Common Struggle

Recent reports from Burma make it clear that the Burmans are as insistant in demanding independence as Indians are. They are more united than we are. But they should be on their guard against the attempts that have already begun to divide them. They demand a thoroughly national Government immediately but are prepared to cooperate with the Governor if an Executive Council is formed substantially representative of the people. As their demands have not been met and as the Council formed by the Governor is not deemed satisfactory by them, they have naturally decided to start agitation straightway. They want to pursue it by peaceful means but their leader, General Aung San, President of the People's Freedom League, warns the Governor: "If despite our policy disorder breaks out the Governor will be responsible". As Indians and Burmans have common aims, common opponents and many ties of common culture, every attempt must be made to ensure thorough co-operation between the two peoples.

Congress Harijan Candidates

It is good news that the nationalist Harijan leaders of the Central Provinces belonging to the All-India Depressed Classes Association and All-India Depressed Classes League are making common cause in contesting the elections against the reactionary Ambedkarites. But their reported view that the Congress should be requested not to set up any candidates against their own nominees is not the best way to protect the interests of the Harijans themselves or the country. It will be better for their nominees to join Congress and contest elections on its behalf. Their success will then be certain. Nay, they may be returned unopposed, just as seven Harijan candidates of the Congress have already been returned unopposed to the U. P. Legislative Assembly. When Harijans have so much confidence in Congress it will be wrong for it from every point of view not to put up its own candidates from the community.

"Jai Hind" Greets Pressmen At Red Fort

I. N. A MEN AWAITING TRIAL PLAY BRIDGE

Sepoys Complain Of Inadequate Allowances: Officials Heed Newsmen's Request For Further Amenities

(From Our Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, November 19.

They were playing bridge when a party of Pressmen, including your correspondent, were taken round this morning to see I.N.A. accused and detenus. These I.N.A. men are not actually lodged in Shah Jahan's Red Fort but they are detained in barracks erected on Yalimgarh, built for Shah Jahan's son Salim.

Officers are lodged in one barrack while N.C.O.'s and other ranks in two other barracks, protected by barbed wire all round A couple of them are lodged, in cells.

They are divided into four categories, namely, men under trial, men under interrogation for trial, witnesses for prosecution and witnesses for defence The Officers' barracks has a radio set and some of them have pasted pin-up girls on the wall. They are allowed newspapers. They did not complain about food, though some of them missed the evening cup of tea.

Some amongst the rank and file had rugged clothes, but we were assured that clothes and specially woolies were on the way and be soon made available to them.

When asked whether they were comfortable one of them said that they had passed a stage when they could care about the niceties of life. All of them saluted pressmen with shouts of "Jai Hind".

The prisoners, for most part, seemed happy on their roles. Talks with the men also brought out that they start their day by assembling and singing "Jai Hai", their national anthem. There is no display of the national flag, however.

We also met Japanese officers—Genera Isoda, Mr. Hachiya and Col. Kagawa. The Japanese live under tents protected by barbed wire and have all the comforts but complained of cold . Hachiya is the most important man amongst them. He once represented the Emperor of Japan at the Court of Subhas Chandra Bose and was once attached to the Japanese embassy in London. These Japanese have come out to give evidence for defence.

Pressmen are also likely be taken round to see the Bahadurgarh Camp where Indian prisoners of war from Germany are kept under detention.

IN HIGH SPIRITS

The 'Associated Press of India' adds: The I.N.A. personnel are housed in three separate blocks surrounded by barbed wire fencing in Salimgarh, a furlong to the south of the Red Fort. The officers included Lt.-Col. Lokanathan, formerly of the Indian Army, (who rose to be Major-General in the I. N. A.), Col. Bhonsle, who while in the Indian Army attended the coronation of King George VI, Capt. Jiwan Singh Bains, Capt. Krishnan, formerly of the I.M.S., Major Thimmayya, brother of Brigadier Thimmayya of the Indian Army and Capt. Ehsan Qadir. They were in the highest spirits: some like Col. Bhonsle talked with quiet confidence, while others like Col. Lokanathan expressed themselves explosively on the situtions in India. They greeted the Pressmen with cries of "Jai Hind" uttered with aggressive crispness.

The detained officers are entitled to salute and to other marks of respect due to their rank. They are not permitted to wear the I.N.A. insignia. They have elected not to wear the Indian Army insignia.

When they met the pressmen, they were dressed in civilian or quasi-service clothes.

Questions put to them were confined to living conditions. The officers did not care to draw attention to any complaints apart from the supply of newspapers. They said only the "Statesman" was allowed to them till recently. But now the "Hindustan Times" had been added. Those who did not read English till lately have been without newspapers ,but now the authorities have agreed to approach the authorities to provide Indian language newspapers, Cards, reading, football or volleyball are their main recreation.

INSUFFICIENT ALLOWANCE

The V.C.O.'s and men who were in two other dormitories had complaints about clothes and insufficiency of monthly allowance. One of the men, a Muslim, was noticed wearing an old pair of Khaki trousers, badly torn at the knee. He said he had no spare ones. The officer in charge undertook to enquire and provide the man with a second set of trousers. Woollens have been ordered and will be issued to the men in a day or two. The allowance of five rupees a month for the other ranks is insufficient, according to the men.

A double row of solitary cells divided by a corridor looked forbidding, but the officer in charge explained these were meant for trouble-makers, there were only two or three men occupying them now. One of them is Sardar Uttam Singh, wo said he had been there for 18 months. The officer whose attention was drawn to this case, explained that the man was awaiting trial, and would soon be removed to ordinary barracks. The other inmates would also shortly be taken to common barracks. Men confined in these cells were allowed twice a day to walk out and take the air.

"I am not a jailor", said Brigadier L. L. Thwaytes, commanding the Jumna area, who conducted the party of Pressmen. "It is not my desire to keep any man in these cells except under orders from higher authorities who no doubt have special reasons of their own for keeping men here."

ESCAPE BID FOILED

A story was told of one of the men in the cells, Shankar Ghorpade, who bored a hole in the wall and got out but the rope with which he was trying to escape over the barbed wire barricade broke and he fell and was wounded in the wrist and ankles. He was captured and is now recovering from injuries.

A separate tent was set apart for a dispensary. According to the officer in charge, there are some six sickmen in the camp, mostly cases of relapse of malaria originally contracted in the Burma jungles.

Brigadier Thwaytes explained there were four categories of people held in the Jumna area under his charge. They were either men awaiting trial, prosecution or defence witnesses or those undergoing interrogation.

According to him the intention was to treat them exactly as if they were soldiers of the Indian Army. The main difference was that their pay had been stopped from the time they were found fighting on the wrong side. They now get an allowance as pocket money. An officer gets Rs. 30, a V.C.O. Rs. 11 and a sepoy Rs. 5 a month to buy cigarettes, soap and other things. They were not allowed to get food or money from outside.

At the main gate of the camp is the grim warning "Sentries have orders to shoot unauthorised persons attempting to enter this area. Keep away."

THE JAPANESE DETENUS

The three Japanese officers were inside the Red Fort living in tents behind the barbed wire fencing.

Mr. T. Hachiya, suave, softspoken, inscrutable, looked every inch a diplomat. He had been in the Japanese Embassy in London for two years before the war. Consulate-General in Manchuria and chief of the Cultural Department, Japanese Government. He became a Japanese Minister of Bose's Provisional Government. He expressed the belief that the report of Bose's death in an air accident was probably correct, but he had no information of his own.

General Isoda chatted freely and unreservedly. He was chief of the Japanese 'liaison' in Rangoon. Col. Kagawa who kept himself the background was Japanese Chief of Staff.

They had no complaints except that they felt cold in the mornings. Brigadier Thwaytes, to whom the point was mentioned immediately gave orders for an additional blanket for them, and indicated that an effort was being made to get extra pullovers and other clothes.

An Indian civilian in the same enclosure is Paramaguru, aged 23, originally from Madura, South India, now a domiciled Malayanam he became an officer of the I.N.A. and was taken prisoner in Bangkok. He is here as a defence witness.

Brigadier Thwaytes said with reference to the I.N.A. personnel generally in his charge: "We try to look after them fairly, but they cannot be coddled and treated better than the men who look after them." Indian food is supplied to those who want it.

HE WANTS HIS VIOLIN BACK

The 'United Press of India' adds: One Badaruddin related the story of how he escaped from the detention camp and managed to visit his home near Rawalpindi but was later caught and brought back to the Camp.

Ramsingh Thakur, who was a captain in the Indian National Army and music director, regretted that his violin had been taken away and hence he could not compose new tunes. He said that he would want nothing if he got back his violin.

GRIEVANCES

The 'Associated Press of America' adds: The British Brigadier, who is in charge of the I.N.A. prisoners, laughingly denied that any subterranean dungeons held I.N.A. men at the Red Fort. "I understand there is an underground chamber, but it is being used as store room", he said. And when the conducted tour of the I.N.A. quarters ended, he asked the visitors to list the complaints they had heard in their talks with the men.

Their reports included expressions of dissatisfaction over the quality of the mess, the early hour (between 5 and 6 p.m.) of the evening meal, the lack of hot water for bathing, unreliability of communications by mail and telegraph with their families, the inadequacy of the subsistence allowances for purchase of tobacco and other amenities, insufficiency of blankets for their 'charpoys' and difficulty in obtaining replacement of damaged clothing.

One of the officers prisoners, Capt. Shah Nawaz Khan, a defendant in the first I.N.A. trial which resumes on Wednesday after a fortnight's adjournment, said he had found the Indian rations insufficient and was partaking British rations, which include meat. It is for the prisoners to decide which type of food they wish.

Col. J. K. Bhonsale, said that medical care had been inadequate, it being left to a medical orderly.

On this point, however, the Brigadier in charge stated that a medical officer held sick parade at 8 a.m. daily and that the medical attention equalled that of the Indian Army.

Lieut.-Gen. Saburo Isoda had no complaints but with a wistful smile said he and his compatriots would like to go sightseeing in Delhi—"but it's not yet permitted."

Engineering College For Karnatak

It is gratifying to note that the Government of Bombay is contemplating the opening of a new engineering college in Ahmedabad. But it is strange to note how the Karnatak is always neglected. If there is any part of the Province that is in need of such an institution, it is the Karnatak. Belgaum or Hubli would be the fittest place where such an institution can be started. Maharashtra and Gujarat have already got such or similar institutions, but Karnatak has not even a school of mechanical. Will the leaders of Karnatak move in the matter and convince the Government of the necessity of starting an engineering college in Karnatak

A Menace To Health

I shall thank you to publish the following in your daily with a view to inform the public the real state of affairs existing in World B. D. D. Chawls at present.

The sweepers of the B. D. D. Chawls have gone on strike since 1st November for reasons best known to the public. The sanitary conditions of these chawls have become worse owing to heaps of rubbish and dirt accumulated inside and surroundings of these chawls. This is the tenth day of the strike and so far nothing has been done by the P. W. D. authorities for the removal of these heaps of rubbish except the authorities have pasted some notices in front of these chawls asking the tenants to clean their rooms and surroundings. This is a matter of public health and interest. The residents of these chawls are mostly labour class people who attend their work very early in the mornings and return home at late hours. Now worms are coming out and spreading inside and outside the chawls in addition to the nasty smell prevailing in this area. If the present condition were to continue for another 3 days I fear that some epidemic may start and thousands of poor workers' health will be in danger. I am one of the tenants of these B.D.D. chawls and on behalf of them I appeal to the public, our leaders and also to His Worship the Mayor of Bombay to take up this matter immediately in their hands and do the needful.

Jinnah & Hooseinbhoy Laljee

I have read the statement of Mr. Hooseinbhoy Laljee, published in the "Chronicle" of 15th November. The true fact about Mr. Laljee's not calling meetings is not the fear of any disturbance but the fear that not a single voter would attend them. As regards the excuse of "avoiding bitterness", I ask, Is it not Mr. Laljee himself who has attempted to create bitterness and ill-feeling between the two great religious groups of Islam? Neither for elections nor for any other purpose, no Muslim has any justification to disturb the sweet and fraternal relations among Muslims of the two religious schools of thought. It is Mr. Laljee, who for the purpose of election, is creating fratricidal hatred of which he should be ashamed as a Muslim.

MOVE TO LEGALISE GENERAL STRIKE

British Trade Disputes Act To Be Repealed

LONDON, November 19, (Reuter):

The British Government has decided to repeal the whole of the Trade Disputes Act passed in 1927, which made illegal a repetition of the General Strike of 1926 writes the "Daily Express" political correspondent, Guy Eden today.

It means, he says, that as soon as the repeal is passed,—probably early in the new year—a general strike will once more be legal, civil servants will be able to join an industrial strike and local authorities will be free to refuse to employ anyone who does not belong to a Trade Union.

Eden adds: "The Conservative Party's view is that the change in the Law will make the use of the strike weapon for political ends a common practice."

MORRISON OUTLINES POLICY OF NATIONALISATION

LONDON, Nov. 19 (Reuter): Mr. Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, announced in the House of Commons today that, in addition to nationalisation of coal mining, the British Labour Government proposed within the life of the present Parliament to bring under national ownership railways, canals, long distance road haulage services, electricity supply industry and the gas industry.

Dock and harbour undertakings would be brought within the scope of the national scheme. The most suitable form of public ownership was under examination.

Mr. Morrison said the shipping industry was not being nationalised.

With regard to the future organisations of the iron and steel industry Government would, before taking a decision, await the report which the Coalition Government had invited the industry to submit on the improvements required to put the industry on an efficient operating basis.

SHIPPING INDUSTRY

Regarding the shipping industry Mr. Morrison said, the Government would rely on the shipping industry having full regard to public interests. Government looked with confidence to the shipping industry generally to play its full part in the effort towards national economic recovery. Government was alive to the problem with which British shipping found itself confronted as a result of the war.

During the interval which would necessarily lapse before plans could be presented to Parliament and carried into effect, all necessary developments of the industries concerned must proceed, added Mr. Morrison, amid Opposition laughter. "Government, therefore, propose to see that a progressive undertaking will not be prejudiced if they continued development in the interim period", said Mr. Morrison. "Appropriate Departments will enter into early consultations on the point with the industries concerned.

STAGE SET FOR CONSULTATIONS

Mr. Morrison said the announcement of Government policy now would enable the Ministers concerned to enter into consultation with the industries affected.

Concluding his statement Mr. Morrison said: "Policy issues must be taken as having been decided and approved by the nation and it will be for Parliament, Government, and active leaders and workers of the industries concerned to pull together in a high public spirit, so that these great changes may be carried through smoothly and successfully, thereby promoting the well-being of the nation including efficient service for a wide range of privately owned industries, to which the successful operation of those industries coming under public ownership is vital."

NO DEBATE

When Dr. Oliver Lytteiton (Conservative) said he hoped time would be given for an early debate, Mr. Morrison replied he saw no reason for that at all. In the first place legislation would be introduced and that would be debatable. In the second place the Opposition had ample opportunity to raise this on the address in reply to the King's Speech, but they did not.

"If the Opposition doesn't discharge its functions in the debate on the Address, it is not part of my business to put it right", Mr. Morrison declared.

Mr. Lyttleton: Surely it is treating a matter of such importance with hardly the respect it deserves, if we are going to be fobbed off with this general statement (Opposition cheers).

Mr. Morrison: If there are any details required, questions should be put to the Ministers concerned.

When Mr. Garry Alligan (Labour) asked if the decision not to nationalise shipping applied only to ocean going shipping or would include coastwise shipping, Mr. Morrison replied: It applies to ocean going shipping and inland transport.

INDIA'S SYMPATHY FOR INDONESIANS

Chowpatty Meeting Deplores Use Of Force By Aliens

India's whole-hearted sympathy towards the Indonesian cause was voiced by various speakers at a public meeting held at Chaupatty on Monday evening in observance of the "Indonesian Day." The meeting was convened by the Indonesian Youth Association of the city, and was presided over by Dr. J. A. D'Souza, Mayor of Bombay.

Dr. D'Souza cited the views of Harold Laski and Fenner Brockway to indicate that it was absolutely unfair on the part of the Labour Government to use the troops of one slave nation to crush another nation aspiring for freedom. He hoped an early settlement would be arrived at between Dr. Soekarno and the Dutch authorities and that Indonesia would soon be independent.

Mr. B. G. Kher revealed that the institution of slavery still existed in Indonesia, though in a civilized garb. He described the dehumanizing and demoralizing condition of the people of Indonesia under an alien domination. Only from a humanitarian point of view, said the speaker, such people deserved the sympathy of the world. Indian leaders were fully sympathetic towards their cause but they could not do much being themselves in the same plight.

Mr. M. R. Masani observed that Indonesia had a claim to India's sympathy and help in view of the age-old cultural relation between the two countries. It appeared to him that the "Four Freedoms" embodied in the Atlantic Charter were meant only for the white people. For the coloured races there was nothing but repression and slavery. The end of the war had seen the old imperialism making a desperate attempt to survive. This was the essence of the struggle in Indonesia which deserved their sympathy. India, however, could not effectively help Indonesia till her own freedom was achieved.

Others also spoke on the occasion.

CONGRESS CO-OPTION ELIGIBILITY

Those Who "Furthered August Resolution" Included

ALLAHABAD, Nov. 19, (A.P.I.): Acharya J. B. Kripalani, General Secretary of the Indian National Congress, in a statement clarifying clause in the A.I.C.C. resolution about temporary constitutional changes, says:

"Letters have been received asking for interpretation of a clause in the A.I.C.C. resolution about temporary constitutional changes passed recently at Bombay which lays down that vacancies on Congress Committees except those on the A.I.C.C. may be filled by co-option subject to the priviso that only those are eligible for co-option who have actively furthered the August Resolution of 1942. The proviso may not be interpreted to mean that only those who were arrested or detained are eligible for co-option and no other. There are many who for one reason or other were not arrested and did not offer themselves for such arrests, but who otherwise actively furthered the August Resolution. These persons are fully entitled to co-option. The bar against cooption will operate only against those who either opposed the August resolution or were inactive and did nothing to further the August Resolution. This bar will operate only till fresh elections are held".

London Medicos' Quota For Kamala Nehru Hospital Fund

(From Our Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 19: At a well-attended quarterly dinner of Indian Medical Association presided over by Doctor D. N. Dutt last night, warm welcome was given to 34 years old Doctor Dudley Gotla, son of the venerated Parsi Doctor Framroz Gotla of Pimlico, Victoria.

Dr. Dudley recently returned to London after being a prisoner of Japanese since the fall of Singapore. He told his fellow doctors harrowing tales of Japanese atrocities perpetrated against British.

Before the gathering dispersed a collection of about £60 was made for Kamla Nehru Hospital. Secretary, Dr. M. P. K. Menon authorised to send a special circular to other Indian Doctors to support Kamla Nehru Hospital Fund. All remittances are to be made direct to India.

'NON-VIOLENT REBELS' BOMBED FROM AIR!

animals including five cows were burnt alive.

Arrested people were detained for periods varying from two hours to three days during which they were mercilessly beaten and denied all food. The Tamluk sub-jail contained prisoners four times more than its normal capacity. One of them went on a hunger-strike for 20 days as a protest.

The total loss due to burning and breaking of houses, looting, attachment, collective fine, denial policy, extorted war fund donations, etc. in the whole sub-division, though not exactly determined, is placed at about ten lakhs of rupees.

OFFICIAL RELIEF SCANDAL

Coming to events after the Midnapore tidal-borne cyclone of 1942, the collated report says: "Even after the destructive storm and flood, this sort of brutal activities were continued. The news of storm and flood and damages were all suppressed and no publicity was allowed. When the news however came to public knowledge outside help was denied. The activities of non-official relief organisation were not allowed. The pressure of public opinion, however, forced the district authorities to open Government relief centres and to allow the non-official relief organisations to carry on their relief work.

The Government relief works were managed by such persons who took the lion's share and misappropriation of things for relief was the main work of these persons. Generally informers, supporters of Government, Government employees and pro-government people got relief from these centres. But the actually needy and the helpless were overlooked.

STRUGGLE FOR POWER

The other part of the report deals with the activities of the "National Government" set up in the Sub-Division of Tamluk in the wake of the August movement.

On the night of September 28, 1942, 90 per cent of the means of communication were destroyed and the next day "some 40,000 non-violent people having no weapons in their hands mustered strong in some of the police stations" to commence the attack. The tabulated chart states that the activities of the 'National Government" were mainly confined to four of the six police stations—Sutahata Nandigram, Mahishadal and Tamluk —which were invaded seven times.

In course of the struggle, with a view to dislocating the means of the communication, 30 bridges were destroyed, 27 miles of telegraph wire cut, 194 telegraph posts broken and 47 roads were blocked by felling trees across.

SCORCHED EARTH

A "scorched earth policy" was followed in regard to those places which could not be held. As a result, the following categories of "enemy camps" were burnt:—Two police stations, two sub-registrar's office, 13 post offices, one Khasmahal office, 17 excise shops and 12 dak bungalows, in addition to 24 Zemindars' Kutcharis, 16 Panchayat Board 9 Union Board and 14 District Board Offices.

Thirteen Government officers were arrested and subsequently released. According to the report, arrested officers were very kindly treated and were provided with travelling expenses to get back home. Six guns and two swords were seized which the report adds, were never used but destroyed.

NATIONAL GOVT. AT WORK

On December 17, 1942, the people established a "National Government" in the Sub-Division "with five police stations, and six Union and Panchayat offices" of their own.

At the head of the Sub-Divisional "National Government" was a "Dictator", appointed by the Sub-Divisional Congress Committee. The "Dictator" was empowered to nominate his successors who, however, had to receive the approval of the subdivision Congress Committee. There were four successive sub-divisional "Dictators", the fourth having surrendered according to Gandhiji's instruction.

Activities of the "National Government" had to be carried on by the "Dictator" with the help of a Cabinet", all being responsible to the Sub-Divisional Congress Committee. Education, Finance, Justice, Relief and Reconstruction were some of the Cabinet Portfolios.

LAW AND JUSTICE

The "Law Courts of the National Government" had 2,907 cases filed with them of which 1 681 were disposed of. 251 places were searched by them and 278 persons arrested and released. Fines imposed by the Courts on 523 persons amounted to Rs. 33,937-15-0. Among other punishments, warning and detention till rising of the Court were mostly current and money realised in fines was spent in relief work.

After the Midnapore cyclone and during the famine, they undertook relief work. They distributed food, clothing, medicine, diet and milk to the needy and also undertook various measures of rescue work. The total amount spent by them in relief amounted to Rs. 1,58,845-7-3.

Assuming that the Indian elections are completed by June, 1946, I should expect to see that the Viceroy is able to make a wholly Indian Government.

Eire Out To Undo Partition

De Valera's Plea For "Complete Unity Of Ireland"

DUBLIN, Nov. 19 (Reuter).

Mr. Eamon De Valera speaking at Wexford last night claimed that Eire had a standing in the world today that it did not have before.

"The confidence of our people in themselves is higher than it has been at any time over a long period of years," he declared, "All we want now is the necessary energy and enthusiasm to go forward. From the strictly political angle one thing only remains to be done in order to have complete freedom for the whole country, and that is to undo the partition.

"There is not the slighest doubt in my mind that just as we have accomplished the other parts of our political programme over the past years, so too if the nation is consistent and does not turn aside we shall succeed in bringing about complete unity so that at least we shall have achieved what our people over centuries have struggled for—complete freedom for the whole of our country."

NAZIMUDDIN'S CHARGE-SHEET AGAINST SARAT

Muslim Staff Of Hindu Zamindars Asked To Vote For Non-Leaguer

CALCUTTA, Nov. 19. (A.P.I.): Khwaja Sir Nazimuddin, leader of the Muslim League Party in the Bengal Legislative Assembly, says in a statement today that he is astounded to learn that Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose has addressed a letter to Hindu Landlords of the Mymensingh cum-Dacca Muslim constituency of the Central Assembly asking them to issue instructions to their Muslim staff and their Muslim tenants to vote for a particular Muslim candidate who is being backed by the Congress against the candidate set up by the Muslim League.

The two candidates seeking election from the constituency are Sir Abdul Halim Ghuznavi (Independent) and Mr. Tamizuddin (Muslim League), ex-Minister of Bengal.

Sir Nazimuddin adds the action of Sarat Babu is a flagrant violation of democratic principles. "He says: "The authenticity of the letter cannot be doubted because it has been reproduced in facsimile including Mr. Bose's signature, in more than one newspaper and no other explanation is possible except that Mr. Bose wants Hindu landlords to coerce those Muslim voters to act against their own free will."

WHY NEW REVOLT IN INDIA, ASKS STRABOLGI

Labour Peer Reiterates Counsel Of Patience To Jawahar

LONDON, Nov. 19 (Reuter): A League of Asiatic people led by India, is envisaged as the logical development from the self-determination of India itself by Lord Strabolgi, former chief Labour Whip of the British House of Lords, who in an exclusive interview with me developed his recent appeal to Pandit Nehru for patience and endorsed some of the points made in Prof. Laski's blueprint for the immediate future, cables E. Frazer Wighton, "Reuter's" political correspondent.

Lord Strabolgi, who has been continuously active in the sponsoring of Indian nationalist aspirations, thinks that a league of self-governing Asiatic nations could play a great part in the future development of the United Nations Organisation and in shaping a new world order developing naturally into a world government.

Lord Strabolgi confessed that he had been alarmed by statements of Pandit Nehru—"for whom", he declared, "I have high admiration and respect"—that the time might come for a new revolt in India. "In any case", said Lord Strabolgi, "India is in a state of revolt now and if he means a new outbreak of violence, a general strike or anything of that sort, then I think it would be most harmful to everything that he and I stand for. The stark truth is that if only the two main communities in India can agree together on a constitution, neither this nor any other British Government would refuse it of refuse to carry out the necessary legislative steps to give it effect.

"Newspapers are small" he pointed out, "and they are crowded out with tremendous events happening all the time, and the ordinary public may suddenly be faced by a new outbreak of violence in India—if that is what Pandit Nehru is suggesting—which would cause a profound shock and might bedevil the whole situation."

"Therefore", said Lord Strabolgi earnestly. "I counsel patience and tranquillity. We are quite in the dark about the real public feeling in India until the elections have taken place just as people in India were in the dark about the real public feeling in Britain until the British elections had taken place. I doubt has many Indians took the view before the election that there would be such a sweeping Labour victory."

"What of the next steps after the elections?" he asked. "There ought to be a Constituent Assembly as soon as possible and it could sit behind closed doors, but its place of meeting could not be kept secret and I don't see any reason why it should. If that Constituent Assembly can agree upon a constitution for India it will have to be accepted by the people of Britain.

Lord Strabolgi thought the greatest opportunity for 150 years was before the leaders of Indian communities and it was for them to take advantage of it.

"I can't understand why a new revolt should be necessary", said Lord Strabolgi. 'I believe furthermore", he added emphatically, "that the British Cabinet, all of whom I know personally, are perfectly sincere in their intention to carry out the British Labour policy of freedom for India. They don't need any coercion and they will only be embarrassed by violence."

Lord Strabolgi said he appreciated that the transition stage in India was likely to be accompanied by unrest, disorders and confusion—"and that, we must expect"—but he wanted this confusion confined within narrowest limits. "I agree with Prof. Laski that an Indian cabinet should be formed by the Governor-General as soon as the results of the elections are known and the members should be nominated by the principal parties in order that this can be an All-India as well as an All-Indian Cabinet during the time that the new constitution is being framed and brought into being by the Constituent Assembly.

"We in the Labour Government", declared Lord Strabolgi "look to India to play a great role in Asia. The Japanese canker has been cut out and I personally would like to see a league of Asiatic peoples formed for mutual help and advantage, and with India as the leading member of this league."

MORE OIL IN PALESTINE THAN IN AMERICA

Dr. Ghosh On U. S. Decision To Join Britain In Trusteeship

BOMBAY, Nov. 19 (A.P.I.): "Whatever may be the political implications of a Jewish settlement in Palestine, no impartial observer can deny that Jewish Capital and Jewish knowledge of modern science are very essential for the prosperity of the present civilisation", said Prof. J. C. Ghosh, Director of the Indian Institute of Science, in a talk here.

Prof. Ghosh thought that the decision of America to join Britain in the trusteeship of Palestine would result in a quick development of the oilfields in that area. This he said, would have great repercussions on India. On the west coast, coal from Bengal and from South Africa could be dispensed with. He was told that already an Indian owned thermo-power station at Karachi was about to be run by oil-burning rather than by coal-burning.

Prof. Ghosh explained the working of a new instrument known as Gravity-Meter, which took advantage of the fact that density of mineral oil was very much less than that of the dust forming the crust of the earth. The gravity-meter detected this difference in density and the presence of mineral oil was located. With the help of the Gravity-Meter, several new oil deposits were discovered, and there was more oil in the Palestine area than in North and South America put together. The figure came to about four thousand million tons of oil.

AMERICAN THREAT TO ITALY

No Financial Help Till Socialisation Plans Are Abandoned

The Vatican is also believed to have a finger in the pie and is leading a campaign against the execution of the guilty fascists.

Senator On Free Palestine State

Demands Equal Rights For Arabs And Jews

LONDON, Nov. 19. (Reuter): A demand for a free Palestine state, which the Jews and the Arabs are to have equal political and economic rights, was put forward today by a delegation of the American League For A Free Palestine, says Reuter. Senator Guy M. Gillette, President of the League, and leader of the delegation, outlined this three-point plan:

(1) The British Government to take immediate and positive action to give refuge in Palestine to about 100,000 Jews; (2) Every Jew who desires to enter Palestine to be free to do so, and "to be recognised in Palestinian citizenship"; and (3) the British Government to issue immediate instructions to the Palestine administration "to ensure that all economic, political and civic rights should be accorded to the citizens of Palestine, regardless of race, religion or creed".

He made it clear that the delegation's main aim was to press the British Government to act immediately.

A Reuter cable from Tel-Aviv tonight said the curfew imposed on that all Jewish city since the recent riots is reliably stated to be a matter of policy and only day to day announcements could be made about the hours during which the inhabitants must remain indoors.

Small Savings Week From Thursday

The Small Savings Week under the Small Savings Scheme of the Government starts on Thursday and will continue till Wednesday, November 21.

This scheme affords to small savers the means of saving money through investment of such small sums as Rs. 5 or Rs. 10 in the National Savings Certificates. Rs. 5 can be invested straightaway or by means of savings stamps of 4 as., 8 as. or a rupee which are stuck on a savings card, obtainable free from any post office, when a certificate will be issued.

The scheme also encourages the formation of Savings Groups. Nearly 300,000 groups have been formed in Britain since the last World War and have proved of immense value to the nation.

To join such a group a form is to be filled in promising to save a certain sum every month which is collected by the authorized agent in that area, who goes round every month at stated times, and thus each member is able to save without any trouble.

Each such group is assigned to an authorized agent who makes a monthly report of the activities of his group and who runs it with the help of influential persons in his area.

It is a national service to form such Savings Groups in every town and village. Those who are interested can write to or see the National Savings Circle Officer, Bombay, Eros Theatre Building, Fort.

Small Savings Week

As a part of the Small Savings Week programme a public meeting was held in the hall of Dr. Antonio de' Silva High School, Dadar, on Sunday, when Mr. K. S. Bulsara, the President of the Bandra Municipality presided. The meeting opened with an interesting musical entertainment by Miss B. D'Mello. The Principal Mr. J. S. Pereira then spoke on the advantages of the Small Savings Scheme. This was followed by a thought provoking speech by Mr. K. R. Mehta, the National Savings Circle Officer, Bombay Province, explaining the whole scheme and the benefits thereof. Mr. Bulsara, the Chairman strongly commended, the Scheme to those present. The meeting was well attended and at the close of the meeting, a large number of Savings Stamps were sold and encouraged by this sale, Mr. Pereira has made arrangements for the postal clerk to be present at the school premises to sell Savings Stamps and certificates during the Savings Week.

Real El Dorado For Russia!

Find Of World's Richest Gold Fields In Yakutia

MOSCOW, Nov. 18, (A.P.A.): Soviet geographers, who have returned from four years of exploration in the coldest region on earth, the Yakutian Soviet Republic in Siberia, confirmed today stories of its vast mineral wealth. The explorers reported that goldfields along the Lena river are among the richest in the world and are capable of great expansion.

Yakutia's frozen soil was said to hide many ores and quantities of precious stones. The Geographer Kolosov told the "Moscow News" that during four years, he explored North-Eastern Yakutia on foot and by reindeer sleigh. The area explored is situated some thousand miles north of Manchuria, embracing two mountain ranges.

Kolosov said before the ice age, Yakutia had a sub-tropical climate and the remains of many ancient animals such as the wooly Rhinoceros and Bison have been found there.

LOCK-OUT IN SAJJAN MILLS

(From A Correspondent)
RATLAM, Nov. 17.

On 3rd November the management of Sree Sajjan Mills dismissed the entire personnel of the mill and declared a lock-out on the plea that the workers had indulged in sabotage and struck work.

The real issue, however, was that the workers had gone in a deputation to the manager to demand the over-due bonus. Instead they got two dismissals, and a beating up.

The workers staged a sit-down strike to voice their protest. The management answered by calling in the police to throw out the workers. But the workers refused to quit. In the evening, a notice dismissing 3,000 mill workers was put up by the mill manager. And the next day the workers were locked out.

The struggle of the workers for the opening of the mills and the reinstatement of two dismissed men has now continued for 15 days. The mill manager forced by the pressure of public opinion has opened the mill gates but refuses to take back the two dismissed employees and the workers have refused to go back to the mill without them.

The workers are carrying on their fight inspite of all odds. On the one hand the State authorities have let loose a reign of terror and on the other mill management is trying to starve the workers into submission. As a part of this policy, the management has refused to give their wage for October.

The workers demands are:—

(1) Take back the two dismissed workers.

(2) Give us our wage for October.

In a mass meeting held on 15th November over 15,000 people rallied to express their sympathy and solidarity with the just struggle of the Ratlam mill workers.

The citizens of Ratlam pledged to support the workers in every way.

Armed Insurgents Marching Towards Teheran

REBELLION IN N. PERSIA TAKES GRAVE TURN

Allies Perturbed Over Developments: Russian Hand In Trouble Suspected

TEHERAN, Nov. 19. (Reuter): Armed Insurgents from Azerbaijan Province in Northern Persia are marching down the railway towards Teheran, the Capital after taking the town and railway station on Manieh in a battle in which seven Persian officials lost their lives, according to a high-ranking military spokesman of the Persian Government quoted by Reuter's correspondent.

All telegraph and telephone communications between Tabriz, chief city of Azerbaijan Province and Teheran have been cut, he said.

Insurgents armed with rifles and machine guns had isolated Persian garrison in three key cities in the north and were moving in the direction of the railway towns of Zinjan and Kazvin, the latter of which is only 95 miles northwest of the capital, the spokesman stated.

Addressing a hurriedly summoned press conference in Teheran last night the spokesman said that the rising which he described as "an open separatist rebellion" had been started on Friday by members of "the Democrat" party.

"The Iranian Minister of War, General Riazi and the Chief of Staff, General Arfa, have informed the Russian Military Attache in Teheran, who has promised to report to the Russian General Commanding Iran" he said.

"The Russians have refused a request by the Persian General in Command at Tabriz for one of his officers to travel by a Russian commercial plane to Teheran to report."

The Persian garrison in Ardabil (115 miles west of Tabriz) Astara (Caspian seaport) and Rezaieh, each numbering a thousand men, are completely isolated. All telephone and telegraph communications between Tabriz and Teheran have been cut and the rebels are marching in the direction of Zinjan (175 miles south-east of Tabriz) and Kazvin."

The spokesman gave this account of the beginning of the insurrection: "On Friday all telephone and telegraph communications were cut between Tabriz and Manpeh (hundred miles south-east of Tabriz) and armed crowds were assembling. In Tabriz meetings were held and speeches were made against the Teheran Central Government.

"Committee of Exiles" to-day issued a manifesto here, addressed to exiles from Northern Persia.

"Oppression by foreigners and lack of security have forced the inhabitants of the north to move towards the capital" it stated "Exiles should send complaints to the Committee which is ready to shed the last drop of blood for Persian independence and integrity."

RUSSIAN LORRIES CARRY MACHINE-GUNS FOR DEMOCRATS

In Margseh, 50 miles south of Tabriz, it is reported machine-guns were distributed to the crowd by members of the Democrat Party from Russian lorries.

Reports of the rising have caused serious concern in British political quarters, writes John Kimche, Reuter's political correspondent. There is inclination in London to regard such a revolt as something bigger than a purely internal Persian affair and in some quarters the opinion prevails that such an outbreak could not have taken place without Soviet knowledge.

The fact that Tabriz in Northern Persia, which appears to have been the centre of the rising, has direct rail connections with the Soviet Union, is cited in support of this opinion.

NEW PROBLEM CONFRONTS BRITAIN & U.S.

While the extent of the rising cannot yet be assessed, it is already clear that its success would confront the British and American Governments with new problems in the Middle East. One of the questions the substitution of a "revolutionary" Government might throw up is how such a development would affect the decision by the Allies to withdraw their troops from Persia by the end of February.

It is understood that only some 80 British personnel remain in Teheran, whereas there are reported to be still some 20 000 Russians there.

Azerbaijans, who speak Turkish, are at present divided between the Soviet Republic of Azerbaijan, in which about 3,000,000 of them live and the north-western province of same name where there are about 1,000,000. It was reported in July this year that "The Committee for Liberation of Azerbaijan" had been set up in Northern Persia and was demanding Union of Persian Azerbaijan with the Soviet Republic.

This report was denied in Persian official circles

Soviet Will Be Back To Peacetime Conditions

MOLOTOV'S RETURN TO PREMIERSHIP IMMINENT

LONDON, Nov. 18 (Reuter).—Recent political developments in the Soviet Union, in the opinion of qualified observers here, point to political reconversion to peacetime conditions, rather than to struggle as to the successor to Marshal Stalin, alleged in certain speculative reports cables Robert Lloyd, Reuter's special correspondent.

Parallel with largescale demobilisation of Russian armed forces and the working out of a huge five-year plan of reconstruction, the Supreme Political Authority of the Bolshevic Party, as co-ordinator of National effort in military and civilian fields has increasingly re-asserted itself and field commanders are receiving less publicity.

When the Honorary Presidium was elected at the solemn anniversary session of the Moscow Soviet on November 6—one of the symbolic occasions whose political significance is closely watched in Russia—the list of those elected was identical with the members and candidates of the Polit Bureau, the highest directing body of the party.

Apart from Generalissimo Stalin and Marshal Klementi Voroshilov, none of the Soviet Marshals was this time included. At the same time it is worth recalling that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko is a member and Marshals Grigory Zhukov and Ivan Konyev are candidates of the party's central committee—the organ next in importance after the Polit Bureau.

TASK FOR PEACE-TIME CONGRESS

They will come up for re-election when the party holds its first peacetime Congress, after having had no conference since February 1941 and no full-scale party Congress since 1939.

The party is the principal link between Government and the people, the animator of National effort in peace and war, the centralising force in a vast empire with a federal constitution and the chief repository of international experience in a State that has become a world Power after a generation of isolation.

Marshal Stalin himself gave up one of the wartime offices in September when he dissolved the Supreme Council of Defence, of which he had been Chairman.

It would be in line with the general return to normality and by no means a sign of failing health, if he should also decide to devest himself of the Chairmanship of the Council of the Peoples Commissars, which he only assumed during the war, and to return it into the hands of M. Yachelav Molotov, who held it before and has since been his principal deputy.

MOLOTOV AS PREMIER?

M. Molotov's role as Apporteur on November 6, has been interpreted in many quarters as a sign that his return to the office of Premier is imminent. Such a return of M. Molotov to full control of Soviet policy would not necessarily imply the designation of Generalissimo as Stalin's eventual successor.

While Lenin established and directed the Soviet State from the position of Chairman of the Council of the Peoples Commissars, Stalin has generally been content to lay down political directives from the key post of General Secretary of the All-Union Communist Party.

In this latter post, which he is unlikely to resign in his life, he could hardly be succeeded by anyone outside the other three members of the party Secretariat.

They are M. Andrej Alexandrovich, M. Zhdanov and M. Andrei Andreyevich, who are also members of the Polit Bureau and M.G.M. Malenkov a candidate for the Polit Bureau.

STALIN'S POLITICAL HEIR

The view that M. Zhadov is to be Stalin's political heir is based on this position and on his personal record. In 1934 he was selected by Generalissimo Stalin to succeed the murdered Kirov as Secretary of the Party organisation in Leningrad.

During the war he was the brilliant civilian governor of besieged Leningrad He signed the Armistice with Finland and has since supervised its execution as Soviet representative there.

Flag Hoisted At Workmen's Meeting Leads To Trouble

CALCUTTA, Nov. 19. (A.P.I.): Five persons were injured, four of them seriously, in a fracas over a flag hoisted at a workmen's meeting on Beliaghata road yesterday.

Two workers pulled down the flag and this resulted in a melee in which two received stab wounds. Daggers, lathis, iron rods and brickbats were used in the fracas and five persons were injured. The police arrived on the spot and dispersed the mob, whereafter the meeting was held.

Five persons have been taken into custody by the police in this connection.

Anthony's Tall Claim For Anglo-Indians

LONDON, Nov. 19 (Reuter).—Comparatively we have done more for the war effort than any other community in India, states Mr. Frank R. Anthony, Leader of the Anglo-Indian and domiciled European community in India, in a letter to the editor of the "Daily Telegraph" explaining the object of his visit to England.

"Many hundreds from my community have joined the Royal Air Force, and fought the battle of Britain," said Mr. Anthony.

"India's second line of defence, the Auxiliary Force, is drawn entirely from my community. The three strategic services, the Railways, Posts and Telegraphs, and Customs were founded and built up by Anglo-Indians. India's war effort could not have been maintained but for the stability and strength we lent the administration. More Anglo-Indian women joined the different war services than all women of all other communities put together' he added.

I am here to ask the British Government not to forget our alienable rights as a comparatively small but important recognised minority in India."

"Serve Bengal By Ordering Jail Delivery"

Sarat Bose's Tip To Governor-Designate: Advocacy For Release Of "Valiant Band Of Patriots"

KURSEONG, Nov. 19 (A.P.I.): If the Governor-Designate of Bengal, Mr. F. J. Burrows, demands and secures the release of all political prisoners and detenus in the province before he assumes office, he would create a better and a more favourable atmosphere. If he fails in that, his administration would be still-born, says Mr. Sarat Chandra Bose in a statement today.

Mr. Bose says that if Mr. Burrows wishes to serve Bengal and her people he should clear the deck of all obstruction. One of the many obstructions is the continued imprisonment and detention of so many of Bengal's political workers.

The relentless policy that is being pursued by the Bengal Government in the matter of release of political prisoners and detenus, Mr. Bose says, is the desperation of those who have been trying to improve Indo-British relations in the country and is at the same time a challenge to the Congress. Of all provincial governments, the Bengal Government has in his opinion, proved to be the most reactionary.

VALIANT BAND OF PATRIOTS

"I ask them in all seriousness" continues Mr. Bose, "whose interests they are serving in keeping such a valiant band of patriotic workers in prison from year to year. They realise, I hope that one day sooner or later, sooner rather than later, their hands will be forced and they will have to order a general jail delivery.

"If they ordered it now, their act would have some grace. If they order it after filling the cup of bitterness to the full, they will be serving neither the interests of Britain nor of India. In the name of the Congress and in the name of Bengal which has suffered more than any other province from the barbarities of British Imperialism, I demand the release of each and everyone of political prisoners and detenus."

RELEASE BAKSHI

Mr. Bose says that the case of Mr. Satya Ranjan Bakshi is, on all reports, the most urgent of all, having regard to the fact that his health has completely broken down. "I was not surprised when I heard that it was the Government of Bengal who were objecting to Mr. Bakshi's release; for I had heard that it was this very Government under Mr. Casey's governorship which objected to my release also when the Government of India had made up its mind to release me."

Mr. Bose refers also to the Chittagong armoury raid prisoners, the Dasgupur case prisoners, the Inter-Provincial conspiracy case prisoners and prisoners convicted in other similar cases who are in jail. He says that most of them declared years ago that they were prepared to lead the life of peaceful citizens and work for the good of the country under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi, but even that has not been of avail.

Deshmukh's Telegram To Mukerjee

BOMBAY, Nov. 19 (A.P.I.): "I request you to stop this politically suicidal contest of the Hindu Mahasabha and cease 'helping the divisionists", says Dr. G. V. Deshmukh in a telegram to Dr. Shyamaprosad Mukerjee. Dr. Deshmukh says "Congress is looking after the interests of all communities, major as well as minor, theoretical as well as practical. Congress as such has never accepted the principle of partition or parity. Whatever individual Congress leaders may have said or done before, the Working Committee, after its release, has for all practical purposes accepted the principle of no partition and no parity in future. Where is the difference between Congress and Hindu Mahasabha aims so far as the Hindu interests are concerned?"

'India's Franchise System Is A Disgrace'

SECRETARY OF INDIA LEAGUE WARNS BRITAIN THAT "SANDS OF FATE ARE RUNNING OUT"

MANCHESTER, Nov. 18 (Reuter)—Mr. V. K. Krishna Menon, General Secretary of the India League gave a warning that "the sands of fate are running out" on the question of Indian independence to-day, says Ronald G. Bedford, Reuter's special correspondent.

Mr. Menon was addressing a conference at Choriton on deadlock—second of a series of nationwide one-day conferences organised by the India League to focus British public opinion on India.

Under the banner "Democracy for India" Mr. Menon told an audience of over 300 that six months after the Labour Government came to power the situation regarding India was as bad as when Mr Leopold Amery was at the helm.

"I think that statement carries its own condemnation" Mr. Menon added.

"The Prime Minister Mr. Attlee should not tell the American Congress that Britain offered India a chance to govern herself in 1942 for, while there is such ignorance in Indian affairs among those who preside over them, how can we hope for the future?

"The whole of India welcomed the coming to power of the Labour Government and hoped it would mark the beginning of a new phase in relations between the two countries.

"Indians also welcomed the recall of the Viceroy; but he should have returned for one purpose only—to take back to India instructions implementing the mandate given by the British electorate on the question of India."

In the forthcoming elections Mr. Menon said that the franchise system was a disgrace, adding: "Only in Germany to-day can a parallel be found."

Referring to the appointment of Mr. Frederick John Burrows, as the Governor of Bengal, Mr. Menon said: "The people do not want anyone to govern them—they want to rule themselves for a change. Instances such as these show that the Labour Government has failed to take advantage of the goodwill that spread throughout India when they came to power."

PLEDGES TO INDIA MUST BE FULFILLED

Declaring that the people of Indonesia and Indo-China were people with whom they had kinship, Mr. Menon added: "We do not want to see our humiliation and subjection paraded before the world by use by the British of Indian troops against these people.

"Britain has reached the highwater mark of popular expression in the Government, but if the people do not see to it that the pledges to India are fulfilled, then the Nations will part in hatred. The Indian leaders cannot hold, for ever, the masses who have been starved and humiliated for so long."

Mr. K. C. Reddy of the Mysore State Congress drew a parallel between British action in Indonesia and Mr. Bevin's recent warning to Russia.

"It is no use of the British Foreign Minister accusing Russia of cutting across the throat of the British Empire when Britain alone goes to the aid of Dutch in Indonesia to prop up their Imperialism." Mr. Reddy said. "China, Russia, America and the rest of the Allies, have completely refused to take part in this quarrel.

"Does Britain interfere because she is afraid that the torch of freedom which will be lit in Indonesia would be a signal for setting in motion a freedom movement in Burma, Malaya and India?

IMMEDIATE INDEPENDENCE MUST BE GIVEN

"The time has come when the British people should assert itself to see that India is given immediate independence.

"It is not too late for Britain to forge a new band of friendship with free India. We cannot wait any longer for our freedom because we need it to solve the problem"

Other speakers included Mr. D. W. Griffiths, Member of Parliament, (Labour—Moss Side Division of Manchester) and his unsuccessful liberal opponent in the election, Mr. Donald Moore.

"The struggle of the Indian people is on a level with the struggle of any section of the British working-class people to improve their conditions", Mr. Griffiths declared. "The struggle for Indian independence will go on inside the Parliamentary Labour Party for we expect the Government to honour its pledges."

The meeting carried unanimously the following resolution: "This Conference expresses its grave concern at the basis upon and conditions under which the forthcoming elections in India are to be held and protests against the virtual continuance by the Government of the discredited and disastrous policy of Mr. Amery.

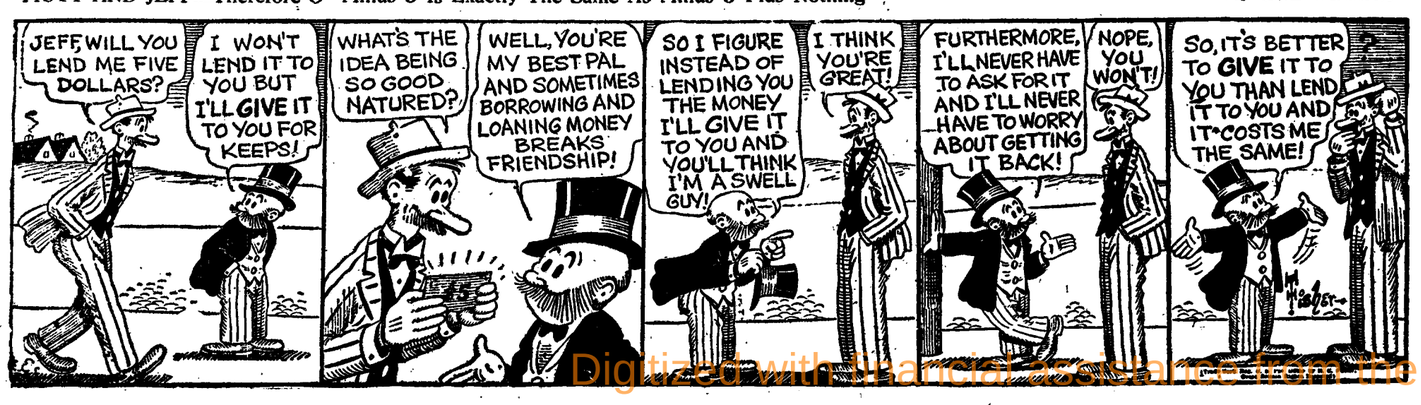
MUTT AND JEFF—Therefore O—Minus 5 Is Exactly The Same As Minus 5 Plus Nothing

By BUD FISHER



JEFF, WILL YOU LEND ME FIVE DOLLARS?
I WON'T LEND IT TO YOU BUT I'LL GIVE IT TO YOU FOR KEEPS!
WHAT'S THE IDEA BEING SO GOOD NATURED?
WELL, YOU'RE MY BEST PAL AND SOMETIMES BORROWING AND LOANING MONEY BREAKS FRIENDSHIP!
SO I FIGURE INSTEAD OF LENDING YOU THE MONEY I'LL GIVE IT TO YOU AND YOU'LL THINK I'M A SWELL GUY!
I THINK YOU'RE GREAT!
FURTHERMORE, I'LL NEVER HAVE TO ASK FOR IT AND I'LL NEVER HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT GETTING IT BACK!
NOPE, YOU WON'T!
SO, IT'S BETTER TO GIVE IT TO YOU THAN LEND IT TO YOU AND IT COSTS ME THE SAME!

100 rats, without breeding, eat 27 mds. of grain a year. But rats breed rapidly—a single pair can produce 800 descendants in a year. Rats, with insects and damp, are the chief spoilers of our grain stocks.

WHAT AN APPETITE!
they eat and spoil
10,00,000 TONS OF YOUR GRAIN EVERY YEAR

If there were no damage to grain stocks through rats, insects and damp, 18 million people could be fed at 1 lb. per day for one whole year! Much of this loss can be prevented by scientific food storage. Here are simple rules for defeating rats and insects and preventing deterioration:—

DOS

Clean and dry all the grain before storage.

Store grain only in clean godowns: scrub the walls and floor, whitewash the walls, fill up all cracks in floor and walls before using for storage.

Store grain only in waterproof godowns.

Store grain only in ratproof godowns: fill up holes with cement and broken glass: cover drainage holes with wire netting: see that doors fit well.

Store grain in bulk where possible: if stored in bags, see that bags are clean, raised from the floor and not touching the walls.

Inspect the grain regularly, and open ventilators for light and air on dry days.

DON'TS

Don't keep sound grain in dirty godowns or in dirty bags, or near infested grain.

Don't store grain when it is wet.

Don't allow water, sweepings, old bags, dirty matting to remain in or near godowns.

Don't clean grain near godowns.

Don't store grain in bags for longer than 4 months in a dry climate or 3 months in a damp climate.

Don't let grain lie on open railway platforms.
